

The Lost Boys: The Tribe to Premiere at Comic-con

Tuesday, June 24th, 2008

Warner Premier has just announced that they will be premiering The Lost Boys: The Tribe at Comic Con this year. That means you will get to see the film for free on the big screen before it makes its home video debut. The film will be shown in Ballroom 20 on Thursday, July 24th, at 10 pm, with a red carpet arrival beforehand featuring Corey Feldman and other stars from the long awaited sequel. As Ballroom 20 is a very large auditorium, you won't have to worry about getting a seat.

Here is the official press release:

The next chapter to the 1987 cult classic feature stars Tad Hilgenbrinck, Angus Sutherland, Autumn Reeser, with appearances by Jamison Newlander, Corey Haim and Corey Feldman as Edgar Frog.

Comic-Con International in San Diego will host the official world premiere of the highly anticipated Lost Boys The Tribe on Thursday, July 24th in Ballroom 20 of the San Diego Convention Center, it was announced today. The 10:00PM screening of the film gives Comic-Con attendees the chance to see the film five days before its official Blu-ray and DVD release date on July 29th.

The direct-to-DVD feature is directed by P.J. Pesce from a script by Hans Rodionoff and stars Tad Hilgenbrinck ([American Pie: Band Camp \[Unrated\] \[WS\]](#)) as Chris Emerson, Angus Sutherland (Passing Strangers) as Shane, Autumn Reeser (The O.C.) as Nicole Emerson, with appearances by Jamison Newlander and Corey Haim from the original Lost Boys film as well as Corey Feldman as Edgar Frog, the original vampire hunter.

The premiere will feature appearances by cast members Corey Feldman, Tad Hilgenbrinck, Angus Sutherland and Autumn Reeser, director PJ Pesce, writer

Hans Rodionoff and other exciting special guests to be named later, who will participate in a question and answer session following the screening.

The Lost Boys: The Tribe will arrive on DVD and Blu-Ray on July 29th, the Tuesday after Comic Con.
